Dear Mr. Hazen,

I am sending this E-Mail because you have 2 products that are not yet in compliance with the RMD:

1. 36029-20 (Diphacinone)

I have reviewed the material that you submitted and that I have previously discussed with you.

Your best optional is to avoid extra development costs and simply:

1. sell your product in packages of four pounds or more, which is your current size anyway.
2. require the use of tamper-resistant bait stations, which you require anyway,
3. require placement within 50 feet of buildings and
4. sell your product in stores oriented to PCOs and agricultural consumers (farm, agricultural, and tractor stores).

The only difference is that you will have to sell the product in stores oriented to PCOs

2. 36029-24 (Diphacinone)

You need the labeling changes specified in the May 28, 2008 RMD for mole and/or pocket gopher products using hand application method of application.

Thank You,

Daniel B. Peacock, Biologist

Hello Mr. Peacock,

I have put together all of our past communications along with descriptions of our problem/solutions. If you have any questions call 805-735-2476 or email jbhazen@aol.com.

Thank you,

Blake Hazen

Dear Mr. Hazen,

Put together a proposal for resolving the issue and E-Mail it to me. Include 1) a description of the problem and 2) a description of your solution. Also include copies of any past letters or E-Mails. Then I can circulate it internally and, hopefully, provided you an answer much earlier and avoid a meeting.

Thank You,
